Local Author Wayne Jordan visits New Woodlands School

On Monday 30th October 2023 we had a local author come to visit our school.

had a school.

Wayne Jordan wrote a series of books with his son about inclusivity and celebrating diversity. He created bespoke workshops for each of our classes at New Woodlands School. Each child had the opportunity to engage in the sessions which enhanced their comprehension and inference skills. They participated in discussions around the stories and what it takes to become an author. The children loved this invaluable experience!
